“ At the first class reunion I could attend after Retiring from the Air Force, Chris approached me and told me that she thought I was a very nice boy in HS but she never got to know me. I was surprised/shocked that someone like her would remember me. From that time forward I really enjoyed getting to know her and Bruce. Both military. She called me Jun 11th (I found scrap of paper with notes) at 11:20 p.m. remembering I said I stay up until midnight. We talked at least one hour that night about her and her health. She is one classmate that I will miss.
