“ I remember the very first time I met David Van Housen. Big David and this scrawny little guy came walking up to the Ardmore baseball sign up where I was working. Big David came up and said my son wants to play baseball. I said, "great has he played before?". David said not here we've just moved here. I said great let's get him signed up. Then I carried him around to meet some of the coaches. Kevin Rich and David Van Housen, known as little D, met each other playing baseball and became the best of friends. They also played basketball together. They really loved playing video games. Every weekend one of them was at the others house, little David was at hours or Kevin was at the Van Housen home. It was a wonderful friendship from the beginning of both families. We stayed together cooking out at the pool and doing other things. If we went on a trip Little D was there. He was like a member of our family. I will miss him forever but the memories we shared will always be in my heart. Fly high my friend. I love you.
