“ I’m so sorry to hear of your loss. May I offer you my condolences. I have found much comfort in the words of John 11:23-25; Jesus said to Martha: “Your brother will rise.” Martha said to him: “I know he will rise in the resurrection on the last day.” Jesus said to her: “I am the resurrection and the life. The one who exercises faith in me, even though he dies, will come to life.” Death may claim our loved ones momentarily, but we will receive them back in the end. Until that anticipated time arrives, we have many cherished memories to warm our heart.

“ Malynn was my first friend in life, first grade. I was crying and was scared. She was sitting beside me. She gave me a piece of double bubble, I quit crying. Malynn smiled and said I will be your friend. Life took us in different areas for several years but when we met up again it was amazing at the similarities in our looks, life styles and health. We enjoyed comparing our stories. She had two wonderful children. We had many of the same health problems and even drove the same type car wore same type clothes. We had many wonderful times.... stories only we understood, it was like we were separated twins. She thought I worked too much and took care of too many people. She always worried. I loved her very much. She was and will always be the strongest person in the world. I have many things we collected together. I will treasure until we met again. I miss you Malynn. A.K.A. Corky. You will always live in my heart alone with my brother. You both were my world. I can't believe your gone. We would call each other and cry, laugh or just give each other advise. I'm proud of how your family took care of you in the end. . I could not bear to watch you suffer, and you are a hero and an angel in my mind. But I have lost my twin sis. That's what you called me. Either sis or Curly. I will miss everything about you. But will see you again.
