“ Well as 4 years quickly approaches, I think of this time of the year before you were called home, as you were in a good place, coming off of everything because you didn't want to be on anything As we sat on each other's porches drinking coffee as you smoked a quarter of a cigarette because our kids wouldn't give us but a minute without getting into something (Langley and Baye as they were not in school yet) we would laugh and how I miss that laugh every single day that passes. I know you are with us as I see you everywhere I look. From the kids because Langley looks just like you, to the Cardinals that fly out as I'm driving or walking down the driveway, to the cow that stood in the road then after I took it back home crossed a ditch and stood on the bridge in the driveway and looked at me...yes that stubborn cow reminded me of you. I miss you every day Hannah. There was still so much I needed you for. I know your happy. I love you my Angel! Tell Mama Betty and Mama Brig I love them y'all keep flying and singing with your beautiful voices.
